Johannes Climacus is the author of the Fragments and the Postscript, as well as the posthumous Johannes Climacus, or De Omnibus Dubitandum Est. He might thus be deemed the author of Kierkegaard's greatest philosophical works. The style of Climacus varies from each of the three productions, but they are singular as to their dialectical mission.

Philosophical Fragments, Johannes Climacus - Søren ...

Objectively viewed, Christianity is a res in facto posita [given fact], the truth of which is asked about in a purely objective way because the modest subject is much too objective not to leave himself out or ohne weiter res [without further ado] to include himself as someone who has faith as a matter of course. Thus, objectively understood, truth can signify: (1) historical truth, (2 ...
